

Hundreds of People Have Obtained Good Situations Through an Advertisement in THE DISPATCH'S Cent-a-Word Columns.

THE BEST HELP Can Be Secured by a Cent-a-Word Advertisement in THE DISPATCH. Thousands Read These Columns Every Day.

CLEVELAND'S BID FOR VOTES OUT AT LAST.

He Fails to Stand by or Upon the Platform of the Chicago Convention.

A TARIFF REFORMER, NOT A FREE TRADER.

Is the Democratic Candidate's Way of Describing Himself When Asking Suffrages.

NOT WITH HIS PARTY AS TO WILDCAT BANKS.

Prejudices of Voters Appealed to in a Renunciation of Force Bills and Empty Laws.

Not Exactly the Kind of Letter That Was Looked for by Either Democrats or Republicans—How the Letter-Writer of Gray Gables Feels to Be Called on for the Third Time to Lead His Party—The Columbian Exposition Gets a Few Good Words—The Fenelon Roll, According to Mr. Cleveland, Should Be One of Honor and Jealously Guarded—Government Positions for Veterans—Public Officials the Agents of the People—Taffy for the Workmen on the Pauper Labor Question, and for the Manufacturer Grover Wants Freer Raw Material—The Letter Not as Lengthy as It Might Have Been After so Long Consideration.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland's long-looked-for letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for President was given out here to-night for publication. It is as follows: To Hon. William L. Wilson and others, committee.

GENTLEMEN—In responding to your formal notification of my nomination to the Presidency by the national Democracy, I hope I may be permitted to say at the outset that continued reflection and observation have confirmed me in my adherence to the opinions which I have heretofore plainly and publicly declared touching the questions involved in the canvass.

This is a time, above all others, when these questions should be considered in the light afforded by a sober apprehension of the principles upon which our Government is based, and a clear understanding of the relation it bears to the people for whose benefit it was created. We shall thus be supplied with a test by which the value of any proposition relating to the maintenance and administration of our Government can be ascertained, and by which the justice and honesty of every political question can be judged.

Force Bills Denounced. Our Government depend upon popular will. Federal power is the instrument of that will—not its master. Therefore the attempt of the opponents of Democracy to interfere with and control the suffrage of the States through Federal agencies develops a design which no explanation can mitigate to reverse the fundamental and safe relations between the people and their Government. Such an attempt cannot fail to be regarded by thoughtful men as proof of a bold determination to secure the ascendancy of a discredited party in reckless disregard of a free expression of the popular will. To resist such a scheme is an impulse of Democracy.

At all times and in all places we trust the people. As against a disposition to force the way to Federal power, we present to them, as our claim to their confidence and support, a steady championship of their rights.

Sound and Honest Money Needed. The people are entitled to sound and honest money, abundantly sufficient in volume to supply their business needs. But whatever may be the form of the people's currency, national or local—whether gold, silver or paper—it should be so regulated and guarded by governmental action, or by wise and careful laws, that no one can be deluded as to the certainty and stability of its value. Every dollar put into the hands of the people should be of the same intrinsic value or purchasing power. With this condition absolutely guaranteed, both gold and silver can be safely utilized upon equal terms in the adjustment of our currency.

In dealing with this subject no selfish scheme should be allowed to intervene and no doubtful experiment should be attempted. The wants of our people, arising from the deficiency or imperfect distribution of money circulation, ought to be fully and honestly recognized and efficiently remedied. It should, however, be constantly remembered that the inconvenience or loss that might arise from such a situation can be much easier borne than the universal distress which must follow a discredited currency.

Public Office Still a Public Trust. Public officials are the agents of the people. It is therefore their duty to secure for those whom they represent the best and most efficient performance of public work. This plainly can be best accomplished by the application of the highest standard of Government employes. These considerations alone are sufficient justification for an honest adherence to the letter and spirit of civil service reform. There are, however, other features of this plan which abundantly commend it. Through its operation worthy merit in every station and condition of American life is recognized in the distribution of public employment, while its application tends to raise the standard of political activity from spoils-hunting and unthinking party affiliation to the advocacy of party principles by reason and argument.

Pensions and Employment for Veterans. The American people are generous and grateful, and they have imposed these characteristics upon their Government. Therefore, all patriotic and just citizens must commend liberal consideration for our worthy veteran soldiers and for the families of those who have died. No complaint should be made of the amount of public money paid to those actually disabled or made dependent by reason of any service. But our pension roll should be a roll of honor, unblemished by ill-desert and unvisited by demagogic use. This is due to those whose worthy names adorn the roll, and to all our people who ought to honor the brave and the true. It is also due to those who in years to come should be allowed to hear, reverently and lovingly, the story of American patriotism and fortitude, illustrated by our pension roll.

The preferences accorded to veteran soldiers in public employment should be secured to them honestly and without evasion, and, when capable and worthy, their claim to the highest regard and gratitude of their countrymen should be ungrudgingly acknowledged. State Preferences Next Appealed To. The assurance to the people of the utmost individual liberty consistent with peace and good order is a cardinal principle of our Government. This gives no sanction to vexatious sumptuary laws which unnecessarily interfere with such habits and customs of our people as are not offensive to a just moral sense and are not inconsistent with good citizenship and the public welfare. The same principle requires that the line between the subjects which are properly within governmental control and those which are more fittingly left to parental regulation be not violated, however, by an enforced education, wisely deemed a proper preparation for citizenship, should not involve the impairment of wholesome parental authority nor do violence to the household conscience. Federalism in our financial ends no approval in the creed of Democracy. It is a symptom of misrule, whether it is manifested in unauthorized gifts or by an unwarranted control of personal and family affairs.

Our people, still cherishing the feeling of human fellowship which belonged to our beginning as a nation, require their Government to express for them their sympathy with all those who are oppressed under any law less free than ours. Immigration Lightly Touched Upon. A generous hospitality, which is one of the most prominent of our national characteristics, prompts us to welcome the worthy and industrious of all lands to homes and citizenship among us. This hospitable sentiment is not violated, however, by careful and reasonable regulations for the protection of the public health, nor does it justify the reception of immigrants who have no appreciation of our institutions, and whose presence among us is a menace to peace and good order.

The importance of the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal as a means of promoting commerce between our States and with foreign countries, and also as a contribution to the welfare of the world, which advances the interests of the world of civilization, should commend the project to governmental approval and endorsement. Our countrymen not only expect from those who represent the national Democracy a sedulous care for the things which are directly and palpably related to their material interests, but they also fully appreciate the value of cultivating our national pride and maintaining our national honor. Both their material interests and their national pride and honor are involved in the success of the Columbian Exposition; and they will not be inclined to condone any neglect of the duties of our Government to insure the grandeur of this event a fitting exhibit of American growth and greatness and a splendid demonstration of American patriotism.

An Apology for the Document. In an imperfect and incomplete manner, I have thus endeavored to state the things which accord with the creed and intentions of the party to which I have given my lifelong allegiance. My attempt has not been to instruct my countrymen nor my party, but to restate to both the Democratic doctrine line near the principles of our Government and tends to promote the people's good. I am willing to be accused of addressing my countrymen upon trifles and in a homespun style, but I believe that important truths are found on the surface of thought, and that they should be stated in direct and simple terms. Though much is left unwritten, my record as a public servant leaves no excuse for my understanding my belief and position on the questions which are now presented to the voters of the land for their decision.

Called for the third time to represent the party of my choice in a contest for the supremacy of Democratic principles, my grateful appreciation of its confidence less than ever affords the solemn sense of my responsibility. If the action of the convention you represent should be endorsed by the suffrages of my countrymen, I will assume the duties of the great office for which I have been nominated, knowing full well its labors and perplexities, and with humble reliance upon the Divine Being, infinite in power to aid and constant in a watchful care over our favored nation.

Yours very truly, GROVER CLEVELAND. GRAY GABLES, Sept. 26, 1892.

THE CHOLERA IS OVER. No Cases in New York and the Harbor Once More Free of Ship and With All Well on Board—Sandy Hook Makes a Similar Report.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—No cases of cholera were reported to-day. "Cholera is over and at present the port of New York is free from the disease," was the cheerful report of Dr. Jenkins this noon, when he returned from the islands down the bay. There are no cases of cholera in Quarantine. There are only a few ships on their way to this port with immigrants and they are coming from the Mediterranean ports.

The North German Lloyd steamer, Saale, from Bremen, with 323 cabin passengers, arrived at the Upper Quarantine at 6 o'clock this evening. There was no sickness during the voyage. An unfortunate occurrence took place on board the Saale yesterday. Mrs. Geslie Armanow, who was accompanied by her daughter, was reported missing, and after a thorough search it was concluded that she had thrown herself overboard.

The Gulon line steamer Arizona, from Liverpool, and the Anchor line steamer Anselma, from Glasgow, were released from Quarantine this afternoon. Surgeon Major Norton of Camp Low, Sandy Hook, announces that there is absolutely no trace of cholera in this camp at present, and his statement is corroborated by Dr. Rauch, the cholera expert.

PAN-PRESBYTERIANS IN COUNCIL. They Object to the Way in Which the Chinese Are Treated. TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 26.—At this afternoon's session of the Pan-Presbyterian Council the exclusion of the Chinese from America and the opium traffic of England in China were the principal topics of discussion.

A resolution instructing the President and Secretary of the Council to prepare a strong protest to the two Governments on these points was referred to the Business Committee. This evening several noted speakers addressed the Council.

Lord Beresford Will Go to Jail. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The habeas corpus proceedings in "Lord Beresford's" case were to-day dismissed in the Court of Sessions. The prisoner waived identification, and Sheriff Turner will start for Georgia to-day, where the bogus Lord has ten years to serve for forgery.

GAMBLE WEIR'S JEWELS FOUND.

Sensational Arrests Growing Out of the Superintendent's Death.

A PLEA OF PERSECUTION Made by Mrs. Henry Marsh When Apprehended at Stapleton, S. I.

Her Companion, James McIntosh, Also Arrested—Each Held in $5,000 Bail to Await Requisition Papers—Already Indicted for Larceny by the Allegheny County Grand Jury—Bandsome Furniture Creates a Sensation in a Poor Neighborhood—The Mystery Around Gamble Weir's Death as Dark as Ever—Chemist Blanck Carries the Secret With Him to Europe.

Interest in the death of Gamble Weir, the late popular police superintendent, was revived last night by the arrest in New York of Mrs. Henry Marsh and James McIntosh. A sensation was caused a few months ago by the announcement that Gamble Weir had been murdered and that poison had been used to kill him. There were pointed intimations and surmises as to who was guilty of the alleged crime, but friends of the dead man who had announced their belief that he had been murdered made no formal charges against the suspected persons.

Although they have made public no tangible evidence to support their theory, they still maintain that Gamble Weir was the victim of a plot. One link in the evidence which they claim to have, became public through the investigation by Chemist Hugo Blanck, of the dead man's stomach.

The result of that investigation was not known, unless to County Commissioner Weir, brother of the deceased, who declines to tell. Prof. Blanck is now in Europe on a vacation trip. Mrs. Marsh, who is under arrest in New York, is charged with larceny. Harry C. Fehl, administrator of Gamble Weir's estate, went on to New York on Sunday, accompanied by a detective, armed with an indictment, it is said, quietly procured through the grand jury in this county some time ago.

Mrs. Marsh is the woman who lived in Gamble Weir's house on Cliff street where she boarded. She has a husband and a daughter 20 years old. Her husband is still here. In company with James McIntosh, who is a brakeman on a rapid transit line there, Mrs. Marsh was arrested at Stapleton, Staten Island, a few miles from New York City. She left this city about six weeks ago with her daughter, going direct to Tottenville, near Stapleton. At Tottenville, according to a telegram from that city last night, Mrs. Marsh and McIntosh maintained the relationship of friends.

Three weeks ago McIntosh informed his employers that his wife was coming from Pittsburgh with his furniture. The furniture reached Stapleton two weeks ago, and the couple took up their residence at 100 Beach street there. The elegance of their furniture compared with their style of living occasioned surprise among their neighbors, and caused much comment. Both were known by their proper names, and Mrs. Marsh's daughter lived with them.

After Mrs. Marsh's arrest, she wept bitterly and said she was being persecuted by James G. Weir, who wanted to make it appear that Gamble Weir had left no property, in order to take advantage of other heirs, and that he had tried to induce her to sign papers to that effect. Mrs. Marsh's daughter, who was sent alone at home, said McIntosh had told her that she and her mother had gone to New York on what she thought was a vacation trip, but she had expected her father to come on with the furniture. The child had no idea why her mother had been arrested.

Just after the search warrant was secured and the house occupied by McIntosh and Mrs. Marsh was searched. It was stated that considerable jewelry and diamonds, belonging to Gamble Weir were found. From what can be learned this is what the arrest was made for.

Sleeve Buttons Taken From the Corpse. When Gamble Weir's body was exhumed after being buried nearly three months, a pair of valuable sleeve buttons, which had been originally placed in his cuffs, were found to have been replaced. When the pair of brass ones. There was an intimation at that time that the Marshes knew something about the missing buttons, but no direct charges were made. Just after the search warrant was secured and the house occupied by McIntosh and Mrs. Marsh was searched. It was stated that considerable jewelry and diamonds, belonging to Gamble Weir were found. From what can be learned this is what the arrest was made for.

ELOPED WITH HIS GRANDMOTHER. A Twenty-Five-Year-Old Barber Leaves His Wife for a Woman of Seventy. BUFFALO, Sept. 26.—Albert Wirtman, a barber 25 years old, has left the city with his grandmother, Mrs. George Wirtman, who is nearly 70 years old, and wealthy. Wirtman, though married and the father of two small children, is said to have been possessed of a fascination for his grandmother and her money. She lived in this city in a handsome house on William street, where her grandson spent a great deal of his time.

His own home is not far distant, and his deserted wife and children are living in straightened circumstances. He spent last Monday evening at his grandmother's house, and early in the morning they took a westbound train. They have not been heard of since. Three barbers employed in the shop where Wirtman worked have left town with relatives, during the last two weeks, the elopers being a mother-in-law, an aunt and a sister-in-law.

AN EQUINOCTIAL GALE. It Strikes Brooklyn, Kills Boys and Blows Down Buildings. NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Something in the nature of a cyclone swept over the city of Brooklyn this afternoon, blowing down six houses, killing two boys and demolishing trees, fences, signs and everything in its path. Chimneys were blown down and one man seriously injured. Reports from all over the State showed that the gale was general and that great damage was done.

The gale here struck five two-story and basement frame dwellings at Cornelia street and Wickoff avenue and down they went in a heap of ruins. John Dereniah, employed in the building, sustained a fractured skull and broken leg. Frederick Larkin, a contractor, was struck by a falling tree and fatally injured.

GAMBLE WEIR'S JEWELS FOUND.

Sensational Arrests Growing Out of the Superintendent's Death.

A PLEA OF PERSECUTION Made by Mrs. Henry Marsh When Apprehended at Stapleton, S. I.

Her Companion, James McIntosh, Also Arrested—Each Held in $5,000 Bail to Await Requisition Papers—Already Indicted for Larceny by the Allegheny County Grand Jury—Bandsome Furniture Creates a Sensation in a Poor Neighborhood—The Mystery Around Gamble Weir's Death as Dark as Ever—Chemist Blanck Carries the Secret With Him to Europe.

Interest in the death of Gamble Weir, the late popular police superintendent, was revived last night by the arrest in New York of Mrs. Henry Marsh and James McIntosh. A sensation was caused a few months ago by the announcement that Gamble Weir had been murdered and that poison had been used to kill him. There were pointed intimations and surmises as to who was guilty of the alleged crime, but friends of the dead man who had announced their belief that he had been murdered made no formal charges against the suspected persons.

Although they have made public no tangible evidence to support their theory, they still maintain that Gamble Weir was the victim of a plot. One link in the evidence which they claim to have, became public through the investigation by Chemist Hugo Blanck, of the dead man's stomach.

The result of that investigation was not known, unless to County Commissioner Weir, brother of the deceased, who declines to tell. Prof. Blanck is now in Europe on a vacation trip. Mrs. Marsh, who is under arrest in New York, is charged with larceny. Harry C. Fehl, administrator of Gamble Weir's estate, went on to New York on Sunday, accompanied by a detective, armed with an indictment, it is said, quietly procured through the grand jury in this county some time ago.

Mrs. Marsh is the woman who lived in Gamble Weir's house on Cliff street where she boarded. She has a husband and a daughter 20 years old. Her husband is still here. In company with James McIntosh, who is a brakeman on a rapid transit line there, Mrs. Marsh was arrested at Stapleton, Staten Island, a few miles from New York City. She left this city about six weeks ago with her daughter, going direct to Tottenville, near Stapleton. At Tottenville, according to a telegram from that city last night, Mrs. Marsh and McIntosh maintained the relationship of friends.

Three weeks ago McIntosh informed his employers that his wife was coming from Pittsburgh with his furniture. The furniture reached Stapleton two weeks ago, and the couple took up their residence at 100 Beach street there. The elegance of their furniture compared with their style of living occasioned surprise among their neighbors, and caused much comment. Both were known by their proper names, and Mrs. Marsh's daughter lived with them.

After Mrs. Marsh's arrest, she wept bitterly and said she was being persecuted by James G. Weir, who wanted to make it appear that Gamble Weir had left no property, in order to take advantage of other heirs, and that he had tried to induce her to sign papers to that effect. Mrs. Marsh's daughter, who was sent alone at home, said McIntosh had told her that she and her mother had gone to New York on what she thought was a vacation trip, but she had expected her father to come on with the furniture. The child had no idea why her mother had been arrested.

Just after the search warrant was secured and the house occupied by McIntosh and Mrs. Marsh was searched. It was stated that considerable jewelry and diamonds, belonging to Gamble Weir were found. From what can be learned this is what the arrest was made for.

Sleeve Buttons Taken From the Corpse. When Gamble Weir's body was exhumed after being buried nearly three months, a pair of valuable sleeve buttons, which had been originally placed in his cuffs, were found to have been replaced. When the pair of brass ones. There was an intimation at that time that the Marshes knew something about the missing buttons, but no direct charges were made. Just after the search warrant was secured and the house occupied by McIntosh and Mrs. Marsh was searched. It was stated that considerable jewelry and diamonds, belonging to Gamble Weir were found. From what can be learned this is what the arrest was made for.

ELOPED WITH HIS GRANDMOTHER. A Twenty-Five-Year-Old Barber Leaves His Wife for a Woman of Seventy. BUFFALO, Sept. 26.—Albert Wirtman, a barber 25 years old, has left the city with his grandmother, Mrs. George Wirtman, who is nearly 70 years old, and wealthy. Wirtman, though married and the father of two small children, is said to have been possessed of a fascination for his grandmother and her money. She lived in this city in a handsome house on William street, where her grandson spent a great deal of his time.

His own home is not far distant, and his deserted wife and children are living in straightened circumstances. He spent last Monday evening at his grandmother's house, and early in the morning they took a westbound train. They have not been heard of since. Three barbers employed in the shop where Wirtman worked have left town with relatives, during the last two weeks, the elopers being a mother-in-law, an aunt and a sister-in-law.

AN EQUINOCTIAL GALE. It Strikes Brooklyn, Kills Boys and Blows Down Buildings. NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Something in the nature of a cyclone swept over the city of Brooklyn this afternoon, blowing down six houses, killing two boys and demolishing trees, fences, signs and everything in its path. Chimneys were blown down and one man seriously injured. Reports from all over the State showed that the gale was general and that great damage was done.

The gale here struck five two-story and basement frame dwellings at Cornelia street and Wickoff avenue and down they went in a heap of ruins. John Dereniah, employed in the building, sustained a fractured skull and broken leg. Frederick Larkin, a contractor, was struck by a falling tree and fatally injured.

THE TARIFF REFORM PRECIPICE.

DISPATCH last night of Mrs. Marsh's arrest. He had heard of her leaving the city and understood she had left her husband, taking all the furniture with her, but that he was not sure of it. It was understood, he said, that Mrs. Marsh was accused of appropriating some of Gamble Weir's personal property, but Mr. Hunter was not aware of the indictment by the grand jury.

Both Held in Heavy Bail. Mrs. Marsh and McIntosh are both in jail in default of $5,000 bonds. Harry Fehl will arrive in this city to-day and make application at once for requisition papers to bring the prisoners here for trial. Harry Marsh, husband of the woman, was found on Washington street last night. He laughed at the idea of his wife having taken anything which didn't belong to her, particularly from Gamble Weir's estate, and gave the impression that he knew where his wife had been and that she had gone to New York with his consent.

Marsh lost his place on the police force just after the story of Gamble Weir's alleged murder was published. He is boarding on Washington street and says he is working somewhere in the East End.

COUNTERFEITS FROM PARIS. Italians Do a Thriving Business in Disposing of the Queen.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Frank Cassel, an Italian one of a gang of counterfeiters who have been dodging Harlem and Yorkville with bogus two-dollar bills for the past two months, and who was captured Saturday night just after he had passed one of these bills, was brought before United States Commissioner Shields to-day and held in default of $5,000 bail for examination to-morrow morning.

Twenty-eight $2 bills were found in the prisoner's possession, stowed away in his stockings and underclothing. All were of the "Hancock" series. It has been learned by officials of the Secret Service department that these bills have been struck off in Paris and brought to this country and distributed among Italians on the east side of the city. They are fairly good counterfeits, except that the silk fiber is missing. The green color on the back of the bills is of a darker hue than the genuine.

AN UNKNOWN MURDERER. His Body Was Flashed Out of the River at Robbins Station.

MCKEESPORT, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—This morning a coroner's inquest on the body of a man fished out of the river at Robbins station on Saturday. The finding involves another murder mystery, the verdict being that the dead man, unknown, was killed by blows from a blunt instrument in the hands of a party or parties unknown. The victim is described as being about 30 years old, five feet three inches tall, weight 140 pounds, sandy hair, mustache, and complexion.

World's Fair Bonds for Sale. CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Beginning October 1, subscriptions will be received for 15 days by the Treasurer of the World's Columbian Exposition to the issue of $4,000,000 worth of 6 per cent debenture bonds. The bonds will be of four denominations, respectively $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, but no subscription will be received for less than $200.

FRANK COOLEY SHOT.

An Old Farmer on the West Virginia Line Robbed by the Gang.

HIS SON RESISTS THE ATTACK And Shoots Two Men, One of Them the Notorious Leader Himself.

THE BOLD OUTLAWS AT WORK AGAIN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] UNIONTOWN, Sept. 26.—After resting in comparative quiet for some weeks the Cooley gang perpetrated another robbery Saturday night. Jacob Prinkey, a staid old farmer, 62 years of age, who lives up in the mountain about 20 miles east of town, came to town this afternoon and related the following:

"While I and my family were seated in our quiet house Saturday night we were alarmed to hear a number of men spring upon the porch. An instant later the door was opened and five masked men rushed into the house. My son suspected robbers and seized his revolver at the first sound. When the outlaws broke in the door he fired at them. The bullet struck one man and set his clothes on fire, and another man behind him was struck and knocked down. I believe he was seriously wounded, for the other men carried him outside and left him in charge of two guards. I think this must have been the leader, Frank Cooley, for the other members of the gang were very much excited and worried when he fell, and were very kind in their attentions to him. The band returned to the house and bound my son to a chair. While they were engaged in this I got a Winchester rifle, and was now weakening from the loss of blood. Having done this the outlaws searched the house. They secured $20 in money and all the good clothing and jewelry we had, and departed, carrying their comrades with them.

"At the point of a revolver they compelled the women, who were frantic with fright, to go to the cellar and get them something to eat, and also forced them to make a bread poultice, which they applied to the wound of their suffering comrade, who was now weakening from the loss of blood. While the improvement in Mrs. Harrison's condition since her return to Washington has been very slight, it has been sufficient to justify the President in devoting his busy time to possible haste to the consideration of public business. He had a long conference with Secretary of State Foster this morning, presumably in regard to the Bering Sea controversy, and subsequently conferred with Attorney General Miller on judicial matters. General Palmer, the retiring Commander in Chief of the G. A. R., was the only other visitor received by the President this morning. President leaves his office at every opportunity to visit Mrs. Harrison, as she soon gets nervous and restless when he is not by her side.

DECEIVED THE WAITING MOB.

Arthur Watson, the Murderer of His Sweetheart, Now Free From Fear. CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—When Arthur Watson, the self-confessed murderer of his sweetheart, Amanda Cain, was expected to be brought into court this forenoon there were 2,000 persons in and about the courtroom. Many of them were from Indianapolis, where the murder took place. The state of feeling was such that the Judge declined to order the prisoner brought before such a dangerous crowd. He waited until noon, when everybody supposed the case was postponed until tomorrow and the courtroom was cleared. Watson was then hastily brought in. He waived examination, and was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury. He is entirely free from any mob that he has escaped the fury of the mob.

STRIKERS SHOT MEN AND WOMEN.

PICOONIA, W. Va., Sept. 26.—Thomas Young and his wife were shot and killed Saturday by miners who were on a strike. Young was working some non-union men in the mines in the place of the strikers. On the same day a farmer who came to town to sell produce was taken from his horse and shot to death by Italians.

ALL BARELY WANTED.

Subpoenas Out for Chicago's Mayor and Chief of Police McClaghrey.

BOTH ARE OUT OF THE CITY.

The Ministers Get Themselves Into the Race Track Scandal.

ONE OF THEM CALLED A LIAR

By a Judge, Who Adds Some Ugly Trimmings to the Epithet.

A PREACHER DARED TO PRODUCE PROOF

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—[Special.]—Politics and more of it led the complicated case of the city and Garfield Park Club day by day. In all the attempts of the Republicans to use the material for campaign purposes are ever apparent.

The hearing of the club's application for an injunction against the police to prevent interference, before Master in Chancery Barber, and the grand jury's investigation of the alleged bribery of Justice Woodman by Mike McDonald, were postponed to-day. In the injunction case a host of horsemen, turf reporters and property owners near the track testified to the excellent conduct of the racing and the appreciation in value of adjacent property because of the track's operation. The police officer in charge and those who conducted the raids were forced to admit that the crowds in attendance were always well-behaved.

The grand jury is split on party lines. The apparent attempt by the Republicans, who are in the majority, to force an indictment against McDonald has been met by the Democrats, who will agree to find a true bill on the case if the body also inquire into the alleged $50,000 bribery to which Mayor Washburne testified in a police court some weeks ago that was said to have been offered by the Hawthorne if the Garfield track were closed.

Everybody Skipping Out of Town. Subpoenas were issued Friday for Mayor Washburne and Chief McClaghrey to appear in the injunction case, also before the grand jury, and in the case of the Garfield Club against Inspector Lewis, that comes up to-morrow. Chief McClaghrey left town last week and has not returned. Mayor Washburne left suddenly this morning for New York, where, it is said, his brother lies seriously ill. Thomas Windsor, who swore out the warrants that caused the raids, is also out of town, and the close coincidence in this migration of persons so badly wanted on the stand by the Garfield Club has caused much comment.

Even the preachers are being drawn into the case. Pastor Dr. J. S. Withrow, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, was quoted as having said from his pulpit yesterday: "McDonald saw the courts and the law. Already two judges have been found who, with microscopic eyes, discovered constitutional defects in the law against the gambler." Judges Baker, Collins, Breteno and Kettle, who have been attacked with judicial offices, denounced Dr. Withrow furiously to-day. Judge Kettle, in an interview, declared that he had never been approached by McDonald or any member of the Garfield syndicate.

A Positive, but Empty Statement. He stated positively, for publication, that a certain representative of the city had approached him to decide against the club, and had threatened that if the club was given a decision the Judge would be defeated in another race for the judgeship. Kettle declined to give the name of the would-be briber.

In reference to Rev. M. Withrow, Judge Kettle said: "If Dr. Withrow means that statement, or in any manner wishes to insinuate that I have been approached by McDonald or any other party connected with Garfield Park, he is a dirty, stinking liar. Now, quote me exactly as saying that any minister that will make such a claim as possible has proved it should be kicked out of the pulpit. I intend making it my business to make Dr. Withrow either prove those remarks or take them back. Why, he is a dirty con to insinuate my decision was given through microscopic eyes or any influence of McDonald's."

MRS. HARRISON IMPROVING. The President Now Able to Confer With the Cabinet Officials. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Harrison was perhaps a trifle more comfortable than usual to-day after passing a night, during which she slept most of the time. Her appetite appears to be a little better, as there was an increase in the amount of nourishment taken. The cool bracing weather which prevailed during the day has had a beneficial effect upon the invalid and has helped her to get on her feet.

While the improvement in Mrs. Harrison's condition since her return to Washington has been very slight, it has been sufficient to justify the President in devoting his busy time to possible haste to the consideration of public business. He had a long conference with Secretary of State Foster this morning, presumably in regard to the Bering Sea controversy, and subsequently conferred with Attorney General Miller on judicial matters. General Palmer, the retiring Commander in Chief of the G. A. R., was the only other visitor received by the President this morning. President leaves his office at every opportunity to visit Mrs. Harrison, as she soon gets nervous and restless when he is not by her side.

DECEIVED THE WAITING MOB. Arthur Watson, the Murderer of His Sweetheart, Now Free From Fear. CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—When Arthur Watson, the self-confessed murderer of his sweetheart, Amanda Cain, was expected to be brought into court this forenoon there were 2,000 persons in and about the courtroom. Many of them were from Indianapolis, where the murder took place. The state of feeling was such that the Judge declined to order the prisoner brought before such a dangerous crowd. He waited until noon, when everybody supposed the case was postponed until tomorrow and the courtroom was cleared. Watson was then hastily brought in. He waived examination, and was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury. He is entirely free from any mob that he has escaped the fury of the mob.

STRIKERS SHOT MEN AND WOMEN. PICOONIA, W. Va., Sept. 26.—Thomas Young and his wife were shot and killed Saturday by miners who were on a strike. Young was working some non-union men in the mines in the place of the strikers. On the same day a farmer who came to town to sell produce was taken from his horse and shot to death by Italians.